The small micro and medium enterprise (SMME) sector remains one of the key policy focus areas of the South African government since the advent of democracy in 1994. All over the world small businesses are seen as important actors in economic development, job creation and equity. While the government has made significant strides in small business development specifically in facilitating access to information and advice, the small business strategy (2005-2014) published by the Department of Trade and Industry (the dti), emphasises limited co-ordination on SMME support programmes as one of the shortfalls on SMME development in the country.

Across the country, a broad range of support programmes targeted at small businesses are provided by different government departments and institutions as well as the private sector. However, the level of utilisation of these support programmes by the small businesses was not as anticipated. This results in small businesses not benefiting as much as they could from available support. One of the main reasons why this is so is that, despite concerted efforts by various support agencies to communicate their offerings to small businesses, there is lack of a single source of information of all available support programmes and on how to access them.

This National SMME Directory is developed with the intention to strengthen integration of SMME support programmes offered by government, private sector and donor institutions. It is yet another initiative by the dti, to improve the country’s small business support environment. It is hoped that with this important resource at their disposal, small businesses will take advantage of the vast array of support programmes designed for their benefit to improve the operation and success of their enterprises. As support programmes evolve, with new programmes emerging and some closing, the Directory will similarly be revised annually in order to capture and present the most up-to-date information.

It gives me great pleasure, on behalf of the dti, to offer this important resource to the country’s small businesses. We encourage each user, be it small business, a business organization, a small business support agency, and many others, to spread the word about the Directory and to encourage its use as widely as possible. This will ensure widespread utilisation of this important information tool.

The South African government attaches a high level of importance to small business development as a means to contribute to national economic growth and development and job creation. The Government has established a number of national, provincial and local level institutions and programmes to support small businesses across the country. However, experience shows that in some instances these programmes are not fully utilised by small businesses.

One of the reasons that this is the case is that there is lack of information that is easily accessible to small businesses about these programmes - what they are, how they work, who qualifies to use them, what procedures are to be followed to get assistance and how to contact the institutions implementing the programmes. This Directory has been compiled in order to close this information gap. It is intended as a quick reference guide on programmes of various kinds available throughout the country.

The Directory covers programmes offered by national, provincial and local government and their institutions and those offered by other role players such as donors and large corporations. The Directory is organised according to programme, rather than the institution that offers it. As an example, if the reader is looking for financing programmes, he or she will find these under the ‘finance’ section of the Directory, rather than under a particular institution. Where applicable, programmes are arranged by level (e.g. national and provincial) and then by whether it is a general programme (that is, one open to all small businesses) or one targeting a specific group such as youth and women.

Each programme is described as much as possible in order to give the reader as clear a sense as possible as to the nature of the programme, its target group, its geographical coverage, qualifying criteria, application procedure and contact details. However, only what is considered key information is given, in order to avoid the Directory becoming too voluminous. Also, it was not possible to provide the desired amount of detail in all cases, due to the limited nature of publicly available information on some programmes.

While every attempt has been made to cover as many programmes as possible, it is accepted that some programmes may have been left out. It is the intention of the dti to update this Directory on an annual basis. Users are therefore requested to forward information they may have on programmes not covered in this first edition of the Directory to contactus@thedti.gov.za for inclusion in the next edition. We also invite users to feel free to give us any feedback they may have on how the future editions of this Directory may be improved.
HOW THE DIRECTORY IS STRUCTURED

The Directory is arranged according to small business support programme, not according to the institution offering the programme. So, if you are looking for a programme on incubation, for example, look under the section headed ‘incubation’. All incubation programmes will be covered under this section regardless of whether they are offered by a government small business support agency, a private sector company or a donor.

In cases where different support programmes are available nationally and provincially, and for different target groups such as women and youth but under the same category of support, the Directory is presented as follows:

Support programme area: (for example, Finance).

National support programmes: Here national programmes will be presented.

Provincial programmes: Here provincial programmes, e.g. those offered by a provincial support agency such as Gauteng Enterprise Propeller in Gauteng, will be presented.

Women’s programmes: Here programmes targeting women, under the Finance category, will be presented.

Youth programmes: Here programmes targeting youth, under the Finance category, will be presented.

The above arrangement does not apply to all programmes covered in the Directory as some programmes are offered by the same institution at national, provincial and local level and cover all target groups. In that case, no specific mention is made of whether the programme is national or provincial but national and provincial contact details are given.
The South African Government has a number of institutions and programmes for small business development nationally. The government's main national institutions for small business development are listed below. Their small business support programmes are presented in detail in the body of the Directory.

The Khula Credit Indemnity Scheme was established to give access to finance to people who wish to start or expand small to medium sized businesses but do not have sufficient collateral / security to support facilities provided by participating banks. The scheme covers facilities from R10,000.00 to R3-million. Entrepreneurs seeking a Khula credit indemnity can either approach a Khula Credit Indemnity partner financial institution (ABSA, First National Bank, Nedbank and Standard Bank) or a Khula Regional Office for assistance with business plan development and / or advice. The partner financial institution will then assess the business plan and facilitate the application in terms of its lending criteria. Once the application has been approved, the financial institution will approach Khula for indemnity cover and a mentor may be appointed to help with implementation of the business plan, setting up operational systems and general business management. The financial institution manages the facility and collects payments for the duration of the facility. The full payment of the facility remains the responsibility of the applicant.

Qualifying criteria

To be considered for assistance under the Khula Credit Indemnity Scheme, the applicant must meet the following criteria:

- An owner-managed business - the owner should be involved in the day-to-day running of the business on a full-time basis.
- The business activity must be situated in the Republic of South Africa.
- The business must be conducted with a profit motive and be economically viable.
- The borrower must be able to repay the bank facility.
- The individual or person holding a controlling interest in the business must be a citizen of the Republic of South Africa.
- The borrower must have proven and sufficient entrepreneurship, knowledge, skills and experience directly related to the nature of the business.
- The entrepreneur must provide own contribution towards a start-up or expansion of the business.

Application procedure

- Approach any participating bank of your choice and submit your business plan for a facility application.
- If you do not have enough collateral, inform the bank and request them to approach Khula for an indemnity on your behalf.
- The bank will assess the business plan and your application in terms of the bank's own lending criteria and decide if the business will be able to cover the business expenses and the monthly instalments and remain sustainable.
- If the bank believes that the business will succeed, the facility is then approved and a facility proposal is submitted to Khula for an indemnity application.
- Khula considers the proposal and assesses the need for assisting the business with indemnity. The indemnity can only be used when the SME cannot provide enough collateral or security themselves. The bank manages the loan and collects your instalments for the duration of the loan.

Themban International Guarantee Fund (TIGF) was established in 1996 as a Section 21 (not-for-profit) organisation through a partner initiative founded by black South Africans living in exile in the United States. TIGF uses loan and grant capital raised from individuals and organisations in the United States and Europe as security for guarantees to cover loans from South African banks. TIGF provides partial guarantees (up to a maximum of 75% of the loan) for loans from South African banks to approved borrowers, for a period of 1 to 3 years. Local banks and borrowers are required to share the credit risk.

TIGF does not lend money directly to borrowers. TIGF monitors progress on projects to which credit guarantees have been issued. Loans must be repaid regularly according to the loan agreement.

Application procedure

- The applicant approaches the bank to request the financing facilities well in advance.

- The applicant must submit to TIGF as well as to their respective bank a complete Business Plan or Project Proposal, including Budgets and Cash Flow Projections revealing the prospects of the project as well as the capacity to adequately service the loan and to continue to grow plus audited accounts and current financial statements for the previous two financial years.

- The applicant provides security/collateral required by the bank as borrower's contribution towards facilitating the loan being applied for.

- A brief elaboration of the present and future strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats must be made explicit in the application.

- Any information such as Registration Certificates, Memorandum and Articles of Association is to be provided by the borrower.

- The total guarantee requirement by the borrower should not exceed 75% of the credit facility required and not exceed R10-million.

- In addition to fixed assets, guarantees should be secured by cessions of stocks and book debtors.

The business development leg of Anglo Zimele involves an investment fund which provides loan and equity finance to support start-up or expansion businesses. Anglo Zimele actively pursues investment opportunities at the Anglo American Corporation’s operating divisions. All potential opportunities must exhibit commercial viability and growth prospects and must seek to actively involve an entrepreneur in the daily operations of the business. Once a credible investment opportunity has been identified, the Anglo Zimele team seeks out a suitable black empowerment partner, conducts a due diligence exercise and assists in the compilation of the business plan. The business plan is submitted to the Anglo Zimele board for approval. Upon approval, Anglo Zimele acquires a minority equity stake in the business and an Anglo Zimele representative is appointed to the new company’s board of directors. Inputs include advice on business principles, corporate governance and strategy. A clear exit strategy is also defined in the shareholding agreement.

Anglo Zimele offers the following financing products:

1. The Anglo Zimele Small Business Start Up Fund believes strongly in ensuring the long-term economic viability of assisted enterprises through skills transfer and guidance, and meets the needs of loan funded companies by providing strategic operational, financial, and business expertise on a day-to-day basis. BUSINESS PARTNERS

Business Partners provides finance to formal small and medium enterprises whose gross assets are under R100-million, where annual turnover does not exceed R200-million and/or employees are less than 500 in number. Funding is available to qualifying enterprises in all major sectors of the South African economy, excluding on-lending activities, direct farming operations, underground mining and non-profit organisations. Business Partners considers financing applications up to R20-million but applications for financing below R250,000.00 are usually not considered.

The company offers the following products:

1. Business Partners property investments:

Business Partners offers investment financing for a wide range of commercial and industrial premises and the expertise to match the needs of each individual business and/or entrepreneurial investor with the right property.

Property equity partner is designed for the entrepreneur with an exceptionally viable multi-tenant property investment opportunity that will offer an above-average expected return on investment (ROI), usually in excess of 20%. When recommending equity financing, Business Partners usually makes the investment in the form of a shareholder’s loan with an equity component. The entrepreneur’s contribution may also be made in the form of a shareholder’s loan. It is a condition of the investment that Business Partners’ property management division is contracted to manage the property.

Property risk partner caters for the needs of the entrepreneur with a viable business who wants to purchase his or her own premises, but who has limited capital or security to contribute or who does not wish to use the business’ cash resources for the deposit.

In this case, Business Partners structures the investment by advancing up to 100% of the loan financing required. The risk associated with any unsecured portion of the loan is compensated for by Business Partners receiving a shareholding in the property company. Only those businesses that are potentially able to generate sufficient cash flow to afford the regular repayments required are considered for this type of investment financing.

Once the loan portion has been repaid in full, the entrepreneur has the right of first refusal should Business Partners wish to sell its shares at market value. Certain conditions usually apply when granting investment financing to entrepreneurs for a property purchase.

The Women-owned Enterprise Development programme of the Old Mutual Masisizane Women’s Fund facilitates the development of women-owned and run micro- and small-enterprises.

Key challenges these entrepreneurs face are a lack of investment funds, insufficient business development support and skills development.

Masisizane intends to help address these challenges and to help rural women succeed, by developing micro, small and medium-sized enterprises in order to stimulate job creation and enterprise development for women.

The Women-owned Enterprise Development will receive R260-million, with the focus being on women-owned enterprises across all the provinces, although there will be a cap on investments made in enterprises in the Western Cape and Gauteng.

These enterprises will also receive technical support, including mentorship. Masisizane focuses specifically on investments in start-up businesses and businesses established for less than 5 years, requiring capital less than R5-million, and employing less than 50 people.

In addition to funding, Old Mutual will facilitate a product-to-market initiative by engaging with leading South African companies to help create markets for the products and services of these women entrepreneurs.

SMALL ENTERPRISE FOUNDATION (SEF)

Small Enterprise Foundation provides microcredit to enable and assist its clients to accumulate savings. The institution runs a Microcredit Programme (MCP), and a specially targeted programme called Tšhomisano Credit Programme.

MCP’s requirement is that the individual must have been operating a business for at least six months. In this case microcredit is used to change a business from being very fragile to being secure and to attain growth which can dramatically improve household income.

In both MCP and TCP once a client requests a loan she is required to form a group with four others whom she knows very well and trusts. Each of the five must also be interested in obtaining a loan for their own individual businesses.

The five group members are then required to guarantee each others’ payments. No other collateral is required. SEF’s loans are only for the enterprise and their use is strictly monitored.

The SPII is a dti incentive managed by the Industrial Development Corporation (IDC) and designed to promote and assist technology development in South African industry through the provision of financial assistance for projects that develop innovative products and processes. The SPII is focused specifically on the phase that begins at the conclusion of basic research (at the stage of proof of concept) and ends at the point where a pre-production prototype has been produced. The SPII currently consists of three schemes: the Product Process Development Scheme, the Matching Scheme and the Partnership Scheme.

1. The Product Process Development Scheme:

The Product Process Development (PPD) Scheme, provides financial assistance for small, very small and micro enterprises whose total assets (excluding fixed property) are below R5-million and a turnover of less than R13-million as well as total employees of below 50. The financial assistance provided is in the form of a non-repayable grant of between 50% and 85% (depending on the shareholding by BEE, women and persons with disabilities) of the qualifying costs incurred during the technical development stage with a maximum grant amount of R1-million per project. For enterprises with ≤25% BEE shareholding, the grant is 50%; for enterprises with >25% but ≤50% BEE shareholding or >50% shareholding by women or people with disabilities, the grant is 75% and for enterprises with BEE shareholding of >50%, the grant is 85%.

To qualify for support under the PPD Scheme, the proposed product / process should represent a significant technological advance and have a commercial advantage over existing products. The focus on the innovation is local for the PPD Scheme as opposed to global in the other schemes. As the amount of funding is limited, the funds are allocated to high risk / high potential return projects in preference to lower risk projects, which should be able to obtain commercial funding. The SPII Panel takes the applicant's financial ability to develop the product or process into consideration when approving a new project. The applicant's ability to manufacture and market the product, or have it manufactured and marketed, is also considered.

Qualifying criteria

Applicants and their proposals are assessed on the following evaluation criteria:

- Managerial ability, specifically in the field of the management of product development.
- Financial ability to successfully complete the proposed development and commercialization.
- Ability to manufacture and market products, or to have them manufactured and marketed, or to implement a process.
- The innovation of the proposed product / process (it must represent a significant technological advance and should have a commercial advantage over existing products) locally.
- The marketability of the product (or the product manufactured as a result of the process).
- Compliance with international standards.

2. The Matching Scheme:

Financial assistance under the Matching Scheme is provided in the form of a non-repayable grant of between 50% and 75% (depending on the BEE, women and people with disabilities shareholding) of the qualifying costs incurred during the technical development stage up to a maximum grant amount of R3-million per project.
For enterprises with ≤25% black shareholding - the grant is 50%; for enterprises with >25% but ≤50% black shareholding or >50% women / disabled ownership - the grant is 65% and for enterprises with black shareholding >50% - the grant is 75%.

3. The Partnership Scheme

The Partnership Scheme promotes larger-scale development within South African industries. The scheme provides financial support to commercially viable technological innovation products or process projects and shares in both risks and returns. In considering support for a project under the Partnership Scheme, there should be a clear indication of the causality (additionality) that will follow from the support.

Financial support under the Partnership Scheme is provided in the form of a conditionally repayable grant of 50% of the qualifying costs incurred in the development activity, with a minimum grant amount of R3-million per project repayable on successful commercialisation of the project. Repayment is generally in the form of a levy.

Technology and Human Resources for Industry

The Technology and Human Resources for Industry Programme (THRIP) is a partnership programme which challenges companies to match government funding for innovative research and development in South Africa. Managed by the National Research Foundation (NRF) on behalf of the Department of Trade and Industry (the dti), THRIP gives local industry the means to obtain specific responses to its technology needs, by unleashing the potential of students, researchers, and science and technology experts.

THRIP focuses on projects that specifically promote and facilitate scientific research, technology development and technology diffusion, or any combination of these. All projects funded by THRIP must include human resource development, but the choice of technological focus is left to the industrial participants and their partners.

The industry and the dti share the costs - and therefore the risk - of developing commercial technology on a R2.00 to R1.00 basis (industry: the dti). the dti’s support may be doubled if a project supports certain THRIP priorities.

The aim of the Department of Water and Forestry's Forestry Enterprise Development (FED) is to create opportunities for people to utilise forests (indigenous forests, woodlands and plantations) and forest-based resources for economic growth, income generation and job creation in a manner that will take people from a subsistence livelihood system into the market economy and from the “second economy” into the “first economy”.

The FED Programme comprises of 5 sub-programmes as described below:

1. Afforestation:

Focuses on the afforestation activities particularly in the provinces of KwaZulu-Natal and the Eastern Cape. This sub-programme will ensure that enterprise development takes place in accordance with the undertakings of the Forestry Broad-Based Black Economic Empowerment Charter.

2. Ecotourism:

Focuses on FED activities that are based on environmentally responsible travel to natural areas, in order to enjoy and appreciate nature that promote conservation, have low visitor impact and provide for beneficially active socio-economic involvement of local people. The intervention aims to develop and grow viable market-driven business ventures stemming from the current and previously state owned forests such as Knysna, Tsitsikamma, Thate Vondo, Ngome, Amathole, Pondoland Forests etc.

3. Non-timber Forest Products (NTFP):

Is championing all those activities where timber is not an output or product but otherwise acts as a support or supplementary input. An example will be growing of mushrooms and practicing bee-keeping in a forest.

4. Timber Production and Processing (TPP):

Focuses on timber business development. The aim of this sub-programme is to identify and utilise opportunities that are provided by the timber resources in the country and turn them into businesses that have a positive impact on the Forestry Sector across the value chain and at both small, medium and micro level and high level forestry industry.

5. Strategy, Innovation and New Business Development (SIND):

Is designed to facilitate and drive the implementation of all the other sub-programmes within the FED Programme. The sub-programme links and synergizes all internal FED and Forestry Directorate units and functions while providing an external linkage to supporting institutions like Industrial Development Corporation (IDC), Small Enterprise Development Agency (SEDA) etc.

In addition the sub-programme serves as a quality assurance, monitoring and evaluation platform for the whole FED programme.

Programme beneficiaries or target groups include small growers, entrepreneurs, communities and the private sector.

With the advent of the new Minerals and Petroleum Resources Development Act in 2002, many previously disadvantaged South Africans have begun to see small-scale mining as a way to a new life.

The government has, through the Department of Minerals and Energy, established the Directorate of Small-Scale Mining to develop and address the challenges faced by the small-scale mining sector, with a view to integrating them into the greater South African mining community.

The small-scale mining sector includes artisanal or subsistence mining operations (new entrants); sub-optimal formal mining operations; and entrepreneurs with upfront capital.

The department is working to legalise the small-scale mining operations that currently exist, and find ways to help them become economically viable in a way that is relevant, understandable and affordable to small-scale miners.

The Directorate of Small-Scale Mining assists aspiring small-scale miners in the following ways:

- Establishment of a legal entity;
- Guidance towards the identification of mineral deposits;
- Environmental impact assessment (EIA);
- Legal and contractual arrangements, mineral rights etcetera;
- Reserve estimation of the selected deposits;
- Mining feasibility study;
- Market study; and
- Development of mining equipment.

A Small-Scale Mining Board has been set up as a point of delivery for the services required by the small-scale mining sector. It co-ordinates a substantial amount of expert capacity and experience and specialises in planning and developing a viable mining project through the pre-feasibility stages.

The Business-to-Business (B2B) programme supports the establishment of partnerships between Danish companies and companies and South Africa. The programme can assist companies in South Africa in finding a Danish partner, which can help them gain access to Danish technology and know-how. Through the partnership, Danish companies can obtain access to new markets, products and production opportunities. The B2B Programme aims to develop the private sector in South Africa by supporting the establishment of long-term and mutually committing partnerships between Danish and South African companies. By developing the private sector and using business linkages as an instrument for economic growth, the B2B Programme seeks to improve living conditions for the South African people, especially those previously disadvantaged. To this end it is a special requirement for South African companies that they are 25.1% black owned or otherwise have a high combined score on the BEE Scorecard. If South African companies do not have 25.1% black ownership the Danish Embassy will determine whether the local partner fulfils other elements of the BEE Scorecard to a satisfactory extent. In these cases an official BEE Status audit is a requirement.

MENTORSHIP

KHULA MENTORSHIP PROGRAMME

Khula provides both pre- and post-loan mentorship to small and medium size enterprises. The actual provision of mentorship services is done by independent mentors / business advisors that are skilled in their respective areas of specialisation.

Khula sources its business mentors from a database that is maintained by the Institute of Business Advisors of South Africa (IBASA). IBASA specialises in the selection and accreditation of mentors / business advisors.

Khula and IBASA have entered into a service level agreement with the primary purpose of regulating and managing the provision of business advisory services to the SME sector.

Pre-loan mentorship

This phase of mentorship is geared towards assisting aspiring entrepreneurs with potentially feasible business ideas to package viable business plans with a purpose of submitting such plans to Khula's financing partners for funding.

Khula will only consider applications for business plan development that satisfy the following requirements:

- A feasibility study that demonstrates the viability of the business idea;
- A comprehensive and well researched marketing plan;
- Applicants need to possess some level of experience in their proposed business venture;
- A minimum equity contribution as defined by Khula's financing partners.

Application procedure for pre-loan mentorship:

- The aspiring SME approaches a Khula Regional Office for an initial basic assessment;
- Khula's Regional Office conducts an initial assessment in accordance with predetermined qualifying criteria and communicates the final decision (whether or not to continue with the application) to the applicant;
- In the event of an application being successful, Khula's Regional Office will then commission the development of a business plan. This step will involve the appointment of a mentor to facilitate the business plan development assignment. The applicant will be expected to play a leading role in the whole business plan development process. Terms of reference detailing the whole process will be signed by Khula, the mentor and the mentee;
- The mentor and the mentee will then present a draft business plan at Khula's Regional Office. ### VUKUZAKHE: EMERGING CONTRACTORS DEVELOPMENT

Historically the KwaZulu-Natal Department of Transport has responded to the needs of the emerging contractor sector through its Staged Advancement Programme on a contract to contract basis. Because of the rapid growth in the number and value of contracts awarded, the Department will now channel aspects of the programme through Emerging Contractor Associations. On site mentorship is continuously provided to assist contractors with ordering materials, negotiations with suppliers and production rates. This mentorship has been provided through contract management support or through joint ventures with established contractors. Business skills training has been provided to assist with compliance to all statutory requirements. This support programme has improved the credit rating of contractors.

The Venture Capital fund is an initiative that would primarily focus at financing the first two stages of development of new technology-based firms which are:

- The Seed stage (which involves concept development, prototyping, and product development) and;
- Early stage (marketing, production of goods and/or services), with some investment in later stages.

Venture Capital is considered to be funds invested in a venture at high risk to the investor, usually in situations where the venture is unable to secure the required funds from traditional lending sources, such as commercial loans from a bank, or the public equity market.

Commercialization of new technologies that emerge from government funded R&D programmes, science councils, the academic research institutions, technology business incubators and private sector research facilities are the primary candidates for support by the Fund.

The dti is co-investing in the South African Intellectual Property (SAIP) Fund to roll out this programme. Other investors in the SAIP Fund include, Sanlam Investment Management, the CSIR, University of Pretoria, Industrial Development Corporation (IDC) and Triumph Venture Capital as the Fund Manager.
